Aims

This module introduces the fundamental techniques associated with spoken voice for the performer. Routine vocal exercise and training enables students to create personal vocal plans, develop warm ups, personal regular practice and maintain good vocal health.

In twice weekly classes students will explore the potential of the voice as a means of expression and communication. Technique classes encourage students to acquire vocal confidence when speaking text and develop listening skills. There is continued focus on posture, breath, resonance, tone and articulation working towards live performance.

The module aims to:

1. Enable students to achieve an understanding of anatomy and physiology in relation to voice.
2. Enable students to develop their voices as instruments of expression.
3. Enhance students' abilities to effectively communicate using the spoken voice.
4. Establish students' critical awareness of how vocal skills explored in this module can be applied to all other areas of performance.
5. Establish students' ability to work with others within a learning environment, developing a culture of shared educational practice.

Learning outcomes

On successful completion of this module, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate personal responsibility for learning by creating and adapting personal vocal warm ups and personal strategies for development.
2. Demonstrate a physical awareness of the range of vocal techniques necessary to effectively communicate using the voice across a variety of mediums.
3. Release unnecessary physical and mental tensions and promote efficient use of vocal anatomy and breath.

Learning and teaching methods

This module will be delivered through technical classes, practical workshops, independent learning and tutorials.

As a practical subject, formative feedback is continuously offered as part of an ongoing dialogue between tutor and student. This process allows for feedback/feedforward in the moment, when it is most valuable and impactful. Students will be encouraged to reflect on live and recorded voice work; to support their independent preparations for summative performance assessment.

A progress tutorial, in conclusion of Semester 1, presents an opportunity for a timely dialogue between student and tutor regarding progress. Student and tutor will discuss acquisition of fundamental vocal skills in spoken voice and any areas of focused further development.
