Online Resources Hub

We're passionate about high quality music and performing arts education. In fact, we want to make it accessible to as many people as possible.

That's why we've created our Online Resources Hub to share conservatoire standard teaching and resources with educators everywhere.

There's a whole host of practical and engaging activities, video tutorials from our industry specialist tutors, support for students thinking about education and career choices, as well as some wise words from our wonderful student ambassadors!

We'll also be updating and expanding the Hub regularly so keep checking back. If there's anything you think is missing then let us know at schools@lcm.ac.uk.

To access our Online Resources Hub, head over to our schools and colleges section on our website to sign up.
